As a speaker, Assaiante shares his passion by inspiring attendees to face the fears that block their success, negotiate change and make the right decisions. His topics help leaders in any field embrace collaboration, cultural diversity and leadership models that encourage employees to give everything they have - every day, and build winning teams.

Throughout his record-breaking career, Paul Assaiante has demonstrated his expertise in leadership, teamwork and endurance. He is well known for his unique achievement as the winningest coach in college sports history, earning 15 NCAA titles with the Trinity College Men's Squash Team in Hartford, CT. Assaiante brings together the best squash players from around the world and demonstrates how teammates from diverse cultures, religions and ethnicities can unite as a winning team year after year. Assaiante is also coach of the US National Squash Team and two-time US Olympic Coach of the Year.

His book, Run to the Roar: Coaching to Overcome Fear, relives his journey of molding the Trinity Men's Squash team into an unparalleled winning streak.
